

DAVID CORKETT

WEB DEVELOPER RESUME

Profile

I am a self-taught front-end web developer from London. I have experience of creating responsive interactive websites by hand-coding HTML, CSS, and jQuery. I am passionate about design and alongside my technical ability, I can create innovative interfaces which allow ease of usability. I follow many online blogs and front-end news sites to keep updated with current standards and new developments in an ever-changing field. Teaching myself to code while working full-time has required me to be proactive, a fast learner, and efficient in my methods of execution
